

Loveland Living Planet Aquarium Unveils Mountain America Event Center

DRAPER, UTAH — Loveland Living Planet Aquarium proudly announces the opening of the Mountain America Event Center, a stunning new ballroom located inside the new Sam and Aline Skaggs Science Learning Center. Officially named on July 22, 2025, this elegant space is dedicated to hosting private events while also furthering the Aquarium’s mission to inspire curiosity and learning about our living planet.

Designed to elevate both community engagement and educational innovation, the Mountain America Event Center features a state-of-the-art ballroom with versatile configurations to accommodate a wide range of private and corporate gatherings. The venue offers a unique blend of sophistication and purpose, backed by the immersive environment of the Aquarium.

“ _____ ” Aquarium Quote here

Housed within the newly opened Sam and Aline Skaggs Science Learning Center, the Mountain America Event Center also contributes to the Aquarium’s growing educational programs. The Science Learning Center is home to immersive classrooms, STEM programming, and experiential learning labs designed to inspire the next generation of explorers.

By offering a new premium destination for local events, the center supports small businesses, event professionals, and community organizations. With its proximity to the Aquarium’s habitats and amenities, guests enjoy an experience that is both enriching and unforgettable.

“ _____ ” MACU Quote.

Whether you're planning a milestone celebration or a corporate gathering, the Mountain America Event Center offers a venue unlike any other, where unforgettable moments meet meaningful purpose. Book your event today at the most unique venue in Utah:

<https://livingplanetaquarium.org/events>.